

My Health My Data Policy

The Washington Consumer Health Data Privacy Policy ("Policy") applies to personal data defined as "Consumer Health Data" by the Washington My Health My Data Act ("MHMD") that is collected from you by Charter College ("Charter", "we," "us," or "our"). The Policy should be read in conjunction with Charter College's Website Privacy Policy. If a conflict exists between the Policy and any other policy, statement, notice, or other document published by Charter College, the Policy is controlling as to Consumer Health Data Collected under MHMD. For the purposes of the Policy, unless otherwise noted, all references to Charter College include the Charter College website, applications developed by Charter College, and other interactions with Charter College through which Consumer Health Data may be collected.

Consumer Health Data under MHMD means personal information that is linked or reasonably linkable to a consumer that identifies the consumer's past, present, or future physical or mental health status. The Policy does not apply where an exception or exemption applies such as for Protected Health

These categories of personal information are specifically excluded from MHMD when collected by Charter College for medical care, research, and other Charter College operations. Examples of data we collect that are excluded from MHMD include:

- Personal data defined as Protected Health Information (“PHI”) under the Health Insurance Portability and Accountability Act of 1996

Those other uses of personal data collected by Charter College are described where those data are collected, including in our Website Privacy Policy, and other privacy notices and terms that provide disclosures about personal information.

To the extent we collect personal information, including Consumer Health Data, as described above, we may use it for the following purposes:

- To provide you with the medical, research, or you service or other recipients of communications, we will share data, including Consumer Health Data, as directed by you and your interactions.

- The public. You may select options available through our services to publicly display and disclose certain information, such as an endorsement, demographic data, content and files, or other data, which may include Consumer Health Data.

How to Exercise Your Rights

MHMD provides certain rights with respect to Consumer Health Data, including the right to
